FROM THE PRESIDENT

WELCOME TO TEMPLEVILLE ROAD

It's a real pleasure to welcome everyone to Templeville Road for one of the highlights of our 2026/27 Energia AIL season — the derby against our nearest neighbours.

We're delighted to host our great friends and rivals Terenure College RFC, and to extend a particular welcome to John Cadell, President of Terenure College RFC for 2026/27, along with all their players, coaches, members and supporters.

There are derbies, and then there is this one. Two clubs a few minutes apart, both built by generations of volunteers, part of the same community and united by ancient bonds of friendship and sporting rivalry. Both clubs compete at the top of the Irish game while remaining a genuine home for our minis, youth, Under 20 and junior sections — and our St. Mary's Stars and the Terenure Tigers are the teams both clubs are proudest of. We look forward to seeing them playing each other at half time today.

Congratulations to Terenure on their superb new clubhouse and gymnasium at Lakelands, a big step for a club that, like ours, is always building.

Thank you to all our sponsors, detailed throughout this programme, and to our main sponsor, the Maples Group, whose support makes days like today possible. A warm welcome also to our new partners this season — Bolt Security, SparksWealth and MJ Flood.

Thank you to all our volunteers, staff and supporters who give their time week in week out to make days like today happen.

To everyone joining us today, enjoy the occasion, and best of luck to both sides.

Stephen Shirley
President, St. Mary's College RFC 2026–27

A WORD FROM

THE IRFU & ENERGIA

IRISH RUGBY FOOTBALL UNION

MESSAGE FROM THE IRFU PRESIDENT

Tony O'Beirne, President of the IRFU 2026–27

It gives me great pleasure to write to you for the first time in my capacity as the 137th President of the Irish Rugby Football Union.

It is a tremendous honour to serve as President and I am deeply conscious of the responsibility that comes with this position.

It is our schools and clubs that provide the players that feed the pathways for the professional game. I look forward to representing all those who contribute so much to our sport across the island at school, club and provincial level. Clubs are the bedrock of our game and I look forward to visiting many clubs across the island in my role as President and meeting volunteers who play such a crucial role in keeping our game vibrant. I intend to meet, along with our CEO Kevin Potts, with clubs in each province during the season to give them an opportunity to engage with the Union.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all volunteers who give so generously of their time. Whether serving on committees, coaching teams, supporting match days, maintaining facilities, fundraising or undertaking the countless tasks that often go unseen, your contribution is invaluable. Irish Rugby continues to benefit from a volunteer culture that is admired and hugely valued. From minis and youth rugby through to adult and representative levels, the commitment of Clubs remains the driving force behind everything we achieve.

Our senior men's team have a very important season ahead as they prepare for the World Cup in Australia. Our senior women's team also have an important season as they participate in the WXV Global Series and endeavor for selection in the first ever Women's British and Irish Lions squad.

I thank Energia for their ongoing support as title sponsor of the men's and women's AIL competitions and the All Ireland junior cup.

The game of rugby prides itself on its values. All stakeholders, including players and supporters, have a responsibility to ensure that the values of our game - respect, inclusivity, integrity, fun and excellence are upheld. These values help create positive experiences for players, supporters, coaches, match officials and volunteers, and ensure that rugby remains a game of which we can all be proud.

The continued growth of our game depends on creating welcoming and inclusive environments for all. It is encouraging to see increasing participation across many areas of rugby, particularly within the women's and girls' game, while our Clubs continue to embrace new members, players, coaches, referees and volunteers. We must continue to ensure that rugby remains a sport that is accessible, enjoyable and rewarding for everyone who wishes to be involved.

On behalf of the Irish Rugby Football Union, I wish your club, players, coaches, referees, volunteers and supporters a safe, successful and enjoyable season.

Yours in rugby,

Tony O'Beirne
President

LEAGUE SPONSOR

MESSAGE FROM ENERGIA

Gary Ryan, Chief Executive Officer, Energia

On behalf of everyone at Energia, I am delighted to welcome players, coaches, volunteers, supporters and clubs across the country to the start of the 2026/27 Energia All-Ireland League season.

The Energia AIL represents the very best of club rugby. It is where communities come together and some of our most talented players showcase their skill each week. Every season brings new stories and we are excited to see what this year's campaign will hold.

As title sponsor, Energia is incredibly proud to support a competition that sits at the heart of Irish rugby. From the opening whistle in September through to the final rounds next spring, the Energia AIL will once again showcase the passion that makes club rugby so special.

The strength of the league lies not only in the quality of rugby on display, but also in the people who make it possible. To the players who represent their clubs with pride, the volunteers who give their time, the coaches who inspire, the officials who uphold the game and the supporters who stand on the sidelines in all conditions, thank you. Your dedication and love of the game are the foundation of club rugby and the driving force behind its continued success.

We are particularly excited to see the continued growth of the women's game this season. The standard of competition continues to rise, something we saw first-hand in last season's final, which showcased the quality and entertainment that women's rugby delivers. Energia remains committed to supporting this momentum and helping to drive the development of the game.

We wish every player, coach, volunteer and supporter a successful season and thank you for the passion and commitment that continue to make the Energia AIL the heartbeat of club rugby in Ireland.

Gary Ryan
Chief Executive Officer, Energia

STAR PADEL

The club's exciting new padel facility opened to the public on the 20th of July, having successfully hosted the Padel Irish Open the previous week. Padel is the fastest growing sport in Ireland and demand for court time has been high since our facility opened, far exceeding expectations.

Padel is a blend of tennis and squash and as it is played in a walled court it makes it far easier for those of all ages and fitness levels to play. Various introductory sessions, coaching courses and mini tournaments for beginners are being run in Star Padel. Members, and visitors, who wish to give it a try simply have to set up an account for free on the Playtomic app, open the Star Padel page and see all the available various courses and playing times. Pop in to Star Padel to see our facility for yourself.

A RIVALRY SINCE 1959-60

MARYS V NURE

24th October 2026

Close your eyes, think way back, Terenure College (RFC); the jersey hits your reflective vision blackest Black, purest Purple. Then you see the dark corridors of old, redolent of boarders, biscuits, buns, and tea, post matches away. Fr Grace and Fr Walter Kennedy in convivial confab. Wintergreen and steel studs, cramps and steam, wins and deadly draws and lachrymal losses. College Drive and Lakelands and Templeville, ever present, two terrible twins, always locked in a riveted rivalry. It is as though that link is DNA, impregnated. If you think now, RFCs J2s, J5s, U20's, J1s or Senior, the team you most want to play and beat Nure, for them no doubt the same. No one counts the wins or beaten balances. Each time it's a match not a game; and it seethes at each level and each time.

This time with both sides having won two and lost one it is a cliffhanger, when home advantage counts for a sliver only.

Our revered and highly popular, President Stephen Shirley will greet his counterpart and already firm friend, Terenure President John Cadell and they will share a highly sociable day and long night together (apart from 2.30 PM to 4.00 PM). A club tradition stretching back to AIL inception.

Would either side like to see the demotion out of reach or demise of either? without that rivalry both clubs and schools would be demonstrably impoverished and demeaned; an irreplaceable and inconsolable loss. No doubt the Nure see our sparkling star as a target to topple.

Over the years, the jeers and cheers and tussles and taunts have persisted and maybe the rivalry has intensified. However, the fierce rivalry, with mature men wrangling on the sidelines of extremely feisty derbies in the 60s and 70s, have mitigated and matured into a more respectful regard for each other: - and so the purity of the rivalry.

Sharing the same parish and environment has drawn us together and moulded us in close familiarity. With intertribal romances and marriages. Would we wish to merge? Oh! the idea causes a state of tachycardia and high distress. To lose the warm, off-field friendships, and on field emotional battles, would be disastrous; never let the idea spark!

This is not a record of wins and trophies and leagues and representative success, it is an observation on the wonderful human loyalty that draws thousands of blue and white and black and purple folks, in feverish fervour to AIL games, with the ensuing emotions of hope, pain and joy, elation and despair. To see the white drawn looks and tensions or flushed joyous faces, and the repartee and banter across the terraces, that makes this unique. All of this is later lost in happy chats and re-runs in minds, and pints, amuse-geules and sausages and hugs and babble late into the night.

That is why, when Terenure College RFC come to visit us on Saturday, we will be in a high state of anticipation and excitement; why both sets of coaches will have worked out the odds and how to ambush the other. There will be, amongst the punters and supporters' arguments about the half backs and the front rows. How good the backrow is and how well the kicker is doing, should we play down first or second half and so on.

Flashback! Derek Dowling has the ball, Paudge McGill (past Club President), Billy Mills, Declan Fanning, Brian Ahern and looking over the back is Kevin Potts. Action from a game in 1988.

Recently the matches have been very close, and we expect the same again. Needless to say, we are a little confident. One thing for sure there will be a big crowd and hopefully a fair sporting game with total respect for the referee and his/her decisions, plenty of cheering and cross chanting; no injuries, no foul play, no terrace taunts nor unpleasantness, and plenty riotous rugby and a smashing crammed, post-match night of shared friendships, such that makes club rugby enviable and uplifting. We should both clubs be immensely proud of our intense rivalry and our warm friendships.

As they say: - Can't wait for it. Welcome Nure.

MARYS V TERENURE

by D. O'Brien

Written for the programme for the AIB League games against Terenure, 2008 & 2009.

Star wars becomes a tame tiff compared to a clash between these two old adversaries, and ever since Terenure RFC joined the senior ranks in 1959-60 season their rivalry has riveted Dublin 6 with shrill intensity, while over the 48 years personal friendships have strengthened, grown and matured.

EARLY YEARS

In those early days when Dennis Hickie and Mick Hipwell clashed on the field it was like two stags in rut, add in the wonderful Ned Carmody, Sean Cooke, Kevin Prendergast and Bela Kos on the Marys side and Jasser Walsh, the Church brothers (Brendan and John), the Doyle brothers (Joe and Brendan) and Paddy Gaffney for Terenure and you had fearsome passion and superb skill, with the crowds ten deep on the touch lines (no terraces in those days), and the roar reverberated around the entire Terenure and Templeogue. Then a little later the games between the two sides, with front row greats like Sean Lynch, George Cree and Tojo Byrne in against Paddy Kelly, Tommy Bermingham and Paddy Browne, with marvellous Johnny Moloney and Sean Cooke at half back taking on Brendan Sherry and the tremendous Gerry Tormey, with Terry Young versus Eddie Coleman out wide (and Joe Sherwood of the Press, half in love with Eddie), then you had consummate club rugby. The fortunes swayed and the crowd followed suit with many a sedate mid lifer tempted to stop a winger's break with a judiciously placed umbrella crook; then getting one against the head often meant exactly that.

EVOLVING TIMES

Even with the ground changes and upgrades, the friendly feud continued, with talented teams on both sides chopping chunks off each other and fortunes tipping in both directions through the Leinster Leagues and cups (and junior competitions where the rivalry was and is often even more intense) and later the AIB AIL. Teams from both sides contributed to the provinces and Ireland, players like Sean Lynch, John Moloney, Dennis Hickie, Shay Deering (deceased), Ciaran Fitzgerald, Rodney O'Donnell, Declan Fanning, Terry (the Rat) Kennedy, Paul Dean, Tony Ward, Vinnie Cunningham, Kevin Potts, Steve Jameson, Dennis Hickie Jr, Victor Costello, Mal O'Kelly and Peter Smyth to name just a few on the Marys side and Mick Carroll, Mick Hipwell, Brendan Sherry, Eddie Thornton, Mick (Slick) Mahoney, Brian Gorevan (deceased), Bosco Morrissey, Mick Smith Snr (deceased), Paul Haycock, Ciaran Clarke, Niall Hogan, the Blaney brothers and Girvan Dempsey. Great rivalry and great friendships developed between many of our players and alickadoos on both sides, like Paul Andreucetti and the Doyles, (Terry, Benny and Marty), John Hussey and Eddie Coleman (both great IRFU men), JB Sweeney and Willie Flynn, the ubiquitous St Mary's Jr vice president Niall (Rynner) Rynne and Joe Dunne and current president of Marys Frank Kennedy, with sadly recently deceased Liam O'Dea, who was to be Terenure president this year and whose two brothers are stalwarts of Marys, Frank and Noel. Both clubs are full of characters and both clubs carry pride and desire as their badges.

In recent years not only do brothers names appear but sons' such as Hickie, Fanagan, Fanning, Sweeney, O'Flanagan and Cooke for Marys, while Walsh, Coleman, Smith, Thornton, Kelly and Mahoney are names that appear on Terenure team sheets with JB (wonderfully restored to full health after major surgery) Sweeney's two sons Rob and Richie (Chops and Chips) and Dec Fanning's son Darragh in the St Mary's squad and Slick (now happily recovered from a very serious illness) Mahoney's son, Mark and Ray Flannery's nephew Mark O'Neill, in the current Terenure squad, with history like that it is easy to imagine the depth of rivalry.

EASTER EGGSITEMENT AND THE MUNCH IN THE MARQUEE

THE GAME

The passion may have dimmed the slightest bit, but still burns strongly and hearts still flutter and chests heave with impending games, so now we have a big one on March 22nd when Gareth Logan the very popular Mary's captain leads his team onto the pitch, newly adorned with international standard floodlights, at Templeville Road, against his Terenure counterpart Steve Nolan (former rugby league international). Terenure's position of 3rd from the bottom of the AIL league division 1 and fighting for their survival will stoke up their fervour, as though it might need stoking. Both teams play a fast rucking game and try to keep the ball in hand, whenever possible. They have top class coaches with Steve Hennessy, Peter Smyth and Ciaran Potts for Marys and Kevin West and Brian Blaney looking after the Nure. There are many fine young players on both sides, with lads like the Sexton brothers Jonno and Mark, Mike Skelton, Keith Douglas, Phillip Brophy, Frank Lynch and Matt Darcy behind the scrum and the Sweeneys, Matt Duggan, Conor McInerney, Hugh Hogan, Barry O'Flanagan and super skipper Gareth Logan up front with Mary's and Shane Cullen, David McAllister, Graham Crawford (his father, brother and sister are in St Marys) and Mark Mahoney and in the backline and the Blaney brothers, Johnny Barretto, Peter O'Malley and Mark Mahoney's cousin Kevin Mahoney in the forwards for Terenure we will be assured of extreme exertions, expletives and explosions for the entire eighty minutes. This will be worth watching, do not miss it.

THE LUNCH

To get all into the mood for this great game, which unlike most AIB AIL games kicks off at 3.30PM, there will be a fine lunch, sponsored by very generous and loyal club sponsors Investec Bank, in a large marquee, with over 600 seated. As the tension grows and the great characters such as senior members Paddy Bolger, Joe Banana Fanagan (captain of the 1st team to win the LSC for Marys in 1957-58), Matt Gilsenan and Bill Fagan and some less mature like John Cunningham, John Doddy, Spike Fanning, Reggie Foley, Robbie Lyons, Springer, Deano, Titus and Barney mingling, chatting, slagging with Terenure counterparts Maurice Downing, Flash Morrissey (still chasing the girls in -Shaw's Wood-Bushy Park to you), Tommy Bermingham, Ted Reid, Willie Flynn, Terry Doyle, Peter Walsh, Bosco and Colm Jenkinson. Soon rumbustious Rynner, the MC, marshals the crowd and gets everyone safely to their seats, president Kennedy flanked by his vice president Eoin Quinn and junior vice president Rynner, will have the VIP guests at his table, including of course Terenure president Dave McGowan and his committee. Lunch will no doubt include the amusing post prandial anecdotes and predictions and then interclub friendships are put on hold for an hour and half with, "may the better team win, so long as it is ours".

THE AFTERS

Well now, after a game between these two great rivals you would hardly expect supporters to traipse home in delight or disgust; no they must express it and share it, so that is when the fun begins and the bonhomie resumes and every drop goal or missed pass is tri and tetra-sected, over and over again over pints or Perrier, while the five metre pass becomes ten and the twenty metre break becomes a 50 metre one. Then the music will start, the players will join in and a wonderful night of chat and music will follow, cars will be left overnight, indelible memories will be inserted, new friendships will be born; and so the evolution of the relationship between these two special clubs continues and matures, with rivalry and respect in equal measure.

Round 4 of the 2026/27 Energia AIL - Division 1A

This Saturday, October 24th, at 2.30pm, the Boys in Blue host Terenure College RFC in the D6W Derby, in Round 4 of the AIL!

Two weeks ago, our 1st XV were beaten by a last-minute penalty against Cork Con, down in Temple Hill, but having won 2 of our 3 games thus far, we sit 3 points off the top-spot, with Terenure 2 points ahead.

The last time we faced our local rivals, it was in an exhilarating semi-final in Templeville Road, all the way back in April of this year. Thousands thronged the stands and perimeters of the main pitch in Templeville, and saw us come out the winners, 20 – 13, paving our way to the AIL Final later that same month.

The D6W Derby is the ultimate "can't miss" game of the season. The atmosphere and excitement can be felt around the area, days before the game even kicks off. A local rivalry, matched by no other, with crowd sizes that any team would be jealous of. This weekend, get your raincoats ready (just in case), put out the Child of Prague (just in case), and get down to Templeville Road, en masse, and cheer on Deano and his team!

HOMECOMING

On the sweetest of October days, the team and supporters returned to Templeville Road with that optimism the new campaign brings, and with added zip of the first home AIL game, as champions. The meetings of the two clubs are always warm, friendly occasions; and so it was today. Our President Stephen Shirley warmly welcomed Clontarf FC President, Brendan Smith, who has been a prominent champion of Club Rugby for many years. He and Stephen were already firm friends, so the pre-match lunch was a most convivial event, enjoyed by all. The President presented Brendan with an inscribed silver platter to mark Clontarf's sesquicentennial year in existence. There was great raillery comparing that to our mere quasquicentennial. There was a goodly attendance in the campus for the highly anticipated match and soon the terraces were filling up, and the nervous shuffles were in evidence.

Clontarf are renowned battlers, and so it was clear there would be a monumental struggle for the spoils. Having beaten them the last three times, including in the AIL Final, the home side was entitled to feel a little confident; as it turned out it was the closest of finishes, and that was why Marys shaded it. Looking at the other results in 1A, both teams can be happy with the outcome. Indeed, as mentioned by Tarf, at half time they would have grabbed two points, as the home side was humming, running smoothly and effectively when in possession. There is little doubt, but that Marys have the finest backline in AIL, led by Skipper, Conor Dean, recognised as the best outhalf in the league.

In the second half, Tarf shrewdly played the power and possession game, using their mammoth pack to squeeze. In particular the set pieces, and their famed maul are their metier; closing a 19 points' lead to only five at the end.

This St Marys team are not champions for nothing, and kudos must be awarded to the home pack, which battled heroically and devised ways of containing and repelling that threat. Special credit is due, when near the end, and Tarf were in full roar and only five behind, ominously they had a scrum in the blue 22. The Marys scrum dug in, deep, straight and low. The immense pressure came. The Tarf scrum, a solid wedge of puissance, locked in. The home pack set hard, eight hearts at their all, an excruciating minute of will and grit, it budged not a millimetre, Tommer and Jack must take a bow; it may well have saved the day.

We have prevailed four times in a row now, Tarf have not beaten us since April 2025 out at Castle Avenue.

Although it may not have been perfect, this was a copacetic performance. Marys gave away too many penalties, especially, being inclined to go offside too often, with exuberance and enthusiastic endeavour.

As mentioned, the backline was rhapsodic and in the first half, when Marys had plentiful possession, they used it to excellent effect and scored three tries, from, Richie Bergin, Conor Pierce and Dan Goggin, and three penalties from the metronomic Mick O'Gara. We were 33-14 at half time. The second half we scored one penalty from the essential Mick, while Tarf scored three tries.

The lineouts were even, both sides having high success rates. Braemar Murray has settled into the Mary pack very well, combining smoothly with talented Daniel Leane, and he gave an impressive performance in the lineouts and also added much to the game with carries and strong defence. The way that the pack adapted to the high pressure of the Tarf power pack was commendable, although they struggled to contain the visitors' maul which is a highly effective ensemble.

MANVERTON MAN OF THE MATCH

Hooker, Richie Bergin has been playing very well and today again he was the epitome of industry. His throwing in was accurate and timely and his scrummaging and defence were excellent. As in the mode of the modern hooker, he is ever in support. He has real pace and is fearless. He took a fine vector and had to show his pace and endeavour to get over the line, which he did for the St Marys first score. For his all-round contribution, he was awarded the Manverton MoM Award.

SCORING

The game started with the home side on the attack and after three minutes an offside by Tarf allowed Mick O'Gara put three points on the board and he repeated the feat on six minutes. After a lineout and maul on ten minutes Tarf broke in under posts and scored. 6-7. On 13 minutes Tarf made it 6-14. Less than a minute later, the ever-alert Leandro made good ground, the ball came back and rampaging Ronan cut through just inside the Tarf 22. Richie got ball flying in on a superb vector and went through the defence to score close in at the Road End, it was 13-14. At 19 minutes, Mick made it 16-14 with a nice penalty and then on 34 minutes after muti phases and most of the home side involved, Aaron made another strong probe, and found Conor Pierce, on his shoulder, Aaron slipped him the ball and Conor fairly flew through the cover to score under the posts and it was 23-14. Conor has taken to openside eagerly and impressively. On 34 minutes Mick converted yet another penalty and it was 26-14. Playing extra time 42 minutes gone, with an impressive multi phased attack, and most of the side handling positively, it ended with the majestic, deadly Deano smuggling the ball to the ever-influential Dan Goggin rocketing on a terrific vector and going over at the Road end to end the half 33-14. It was looking very promising.

The second half saw us make changes as it went. It was good to see Max Egan and Paul Neary, stars from last season's school's team get time and no doubt learning from our top players. Paul Neary, who was an outstanding schools' outhalf is fortunate to have Deano as a mentor. Tarf come into the game more, as they used the slope and wind well. On 48 minutes, the visitors used their powerful maul to cross at Carvill Corner for a try and it was 33-19. It was 53 minutes when Mick astutely, as a buffer, added another penalty, and it was 36-19. On 58 minutes Tarf got another mauled try and made it 36-26. At 73 minutes they mauled yet another try, and it was 36-31. There was shuffling and shivering on the blue terraces as Tarf seemed relentless. They pressed more and more they had some leverage on the scrums too and coming near the end they got a scrum on Marys 22 looking for a penalty to pump into the corner. That was when our spirited and resolute eight became a groyne against the Tarf tide, and we held firm to end, 36-31. Phew. You could hear the sigh on Fortfield Road.

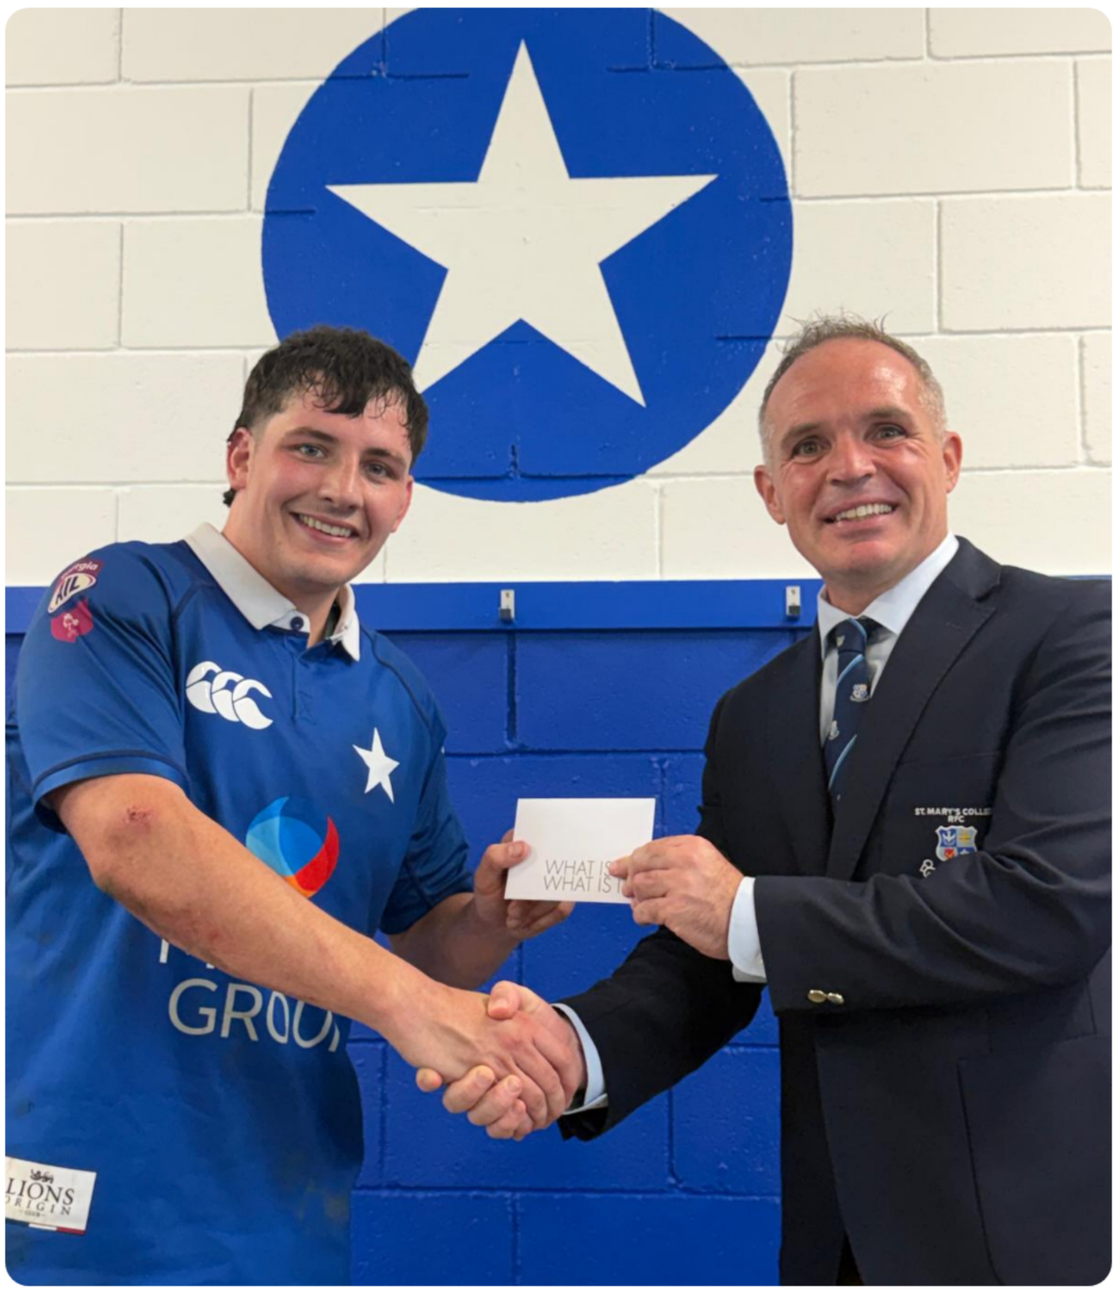

The anthem was roared out in a cacophony of joy.

As ever in club rugby, there was sporting post-match sociability, with players and supporters on the terraces and in the clubhouse, mingling and chatting on a lovely evening. We shall meet again and it could be prophetic.

NEXT UP — CORK CONSTITUTION

Next week we visit the great bastion of club rugby in Cork, Cork Constitution. Head Coach Mark McHugh and his lieutenants will be working hard to add to the very satisfactory start to the defence of the title. He knows that Con will be a big challenge and a possible banana skin, so he will cover all posts. Last time we visited, the score was 19-57, which was the highest score we have ever registered against them.

They have lost their first two games and are nursing their emotional wounds and plotting our downfall. They will be very tough opponents. Well, that is where you come in. If you have trouble with transport, cadge a lift or you can borrow a truck, granny's wheelchair or even confiscate an E-scooter from an under 18. However, you must get there, and ready to Marys-Marys-Marys in baritone or alto or even falsetto; but let us hear you. You are needed. Do it for Deano!!

A DAY AT TEMPLE HILL

There was a reassuringly sizable attendance of good humoured Marys' supporters milling around the Cork Con clubhouse before and after the match. Many players' parents were there, led by the Deans, Watters, McCormacks, O'Reillys, Leanes, Shields, Gilsenans, Careys, Scotts etc. Former officers including Aoife O'Donnell, Gavin McConnell, former President Paudge McGill and Elizabeth, and Gareth Logan (having driven down from Portrush) attended. Also, many former players were there, like Mickey (the Fish) Corcoran, Kevin Conboy, Greg (Hoover) Meagher, Victor O'Connor, Keith McCarthy, TBM and his group and many more. All mingled happily with the hospitable Con folk, including well known greats like Donal Lenihan and John O'Mahony (father of Peter).

The weather matched the mood: bright, sunny and warm.

LUNCH

An affable gentleman, President Brian Fitzgerald, former Senior Naval Officer, along with his committee, greeted President Stephen Shirley, accompanied by his officers. President Stephen cut it beautifully fine, arriving at 12.55pm for 1.00pm, as his driver had taken the scenic route. With a substantial lunch, it was jovial in atmosphere, as Brian explained his idiosyncrasy of adhering to Naval-style dinner protocols, including the quaintly amusing requirement of ensuring that the ship's decanter of vintage port remained in contact with the table when passing from imbiber to imbiber, even while pouring. Both presidents are highly competent communicators and they gave interesting inter-club laudatory orations and received reciprocal ovations.

OVERALL

To be leading coming to the final whistle, give away a penalty, and see it sail over the bar and between the posts and so lose at Temple Hill, was tough to take. However, it has to be admitted that the result was not unfair. In the past there were times we would have been happy to receive a losing bonus point on away visits. This was only the third game and there are 15 games to go, so the league is only at a nascent stage. A loss now and then can sometimes be cathartic. It needs the slightest of nudges to get back to astral heights. Mensa Mark and his colleagues will no doubt sort it.

This was an exciting, and a bit of a see-saw game, with patches of fine Marys play and then intense Cork Con play. The potential of the visitors' backline was evident, but continuity was sometimes lacking. The Marys one on one defence was adamantine; however, maul defence, normally a strong aspect of their game, had some difficulty and that was sometimes costly. It has to be said that, lately, some mauls are set after lineouts in a way that makes it very difficult to defend legally. Aerial expertise, in follow up and in defence, usually dependable for the visitors, was also a little haphazard. Probably the most telling problem for Conor's men was the number of penalties conceded, often in the most unpropitious circumstances. Having said that, there was nothing that cannot be fixed and there were many good aspects which augur well. We welcomed Michael Icely for his first appearance and early on he showed good skills and grit. However, he got a heavy knock and therefore was withdrawn. We will see much more of Michael. Myles, Aaron and Ruairi looked threatening, but as mentioned the continuity was sometimes lacking and so moves broke down. The slightest adjustment could see a return to the superlative.

Both lineouts were highly efficient, with Braemar and Leaner excellent. Con edged the scrums. Wonderkid Ronan was shining today, with the ball and in defence. Skipper Conor Dean, supported by his half back partner Rob Gilsenan, did everything in his power to pull his team ahead and hold them there; however, it was not to be.

MANVERTON MAN OF THE MATCH

Dan Goggin always relishes his return visits to Munster. He was a gladiator today, sweeping up balls behind the defence, running out with rocket force, breaking from scrums with great effect, covering breaks and indefatigably and assuredly tackling. Dan was awarded the Manverton MoM, presented by VP Gerry Hassett.

SCORING

The game started at pace with both teams running ball well. Marys looked sharp as they pressed. When the game was nine minutes old the ball came from left to right in the Con 22, and we saw Con knock on a clever Deano dink, with Andrew and Myles fast up to pressure. The ensuing scrum under the posts saw Rob whirl out the ball to Deano; he held, then switched to Ruairi on a looped vector at streak pace, and he dabbed down. It was converted by 12, Mick O'Gara, who put in his usual high determination game and faultless kicking display. 0–7.

Marys were settling well and keeping pressure on. When attacking, just inside the Con half, a loose pass went to ground, and suitably named Con winger Hand was there (on hand) to pick and accelerate through, with efforts to catch him over 50m futile. 7–7.

Con built their confidence from that, and both teams raised the pace further, with Marys still looking to have the edge. However, when a half hour had passed the home side won a penalty and mauled a try in the corner. They converted and it was 14–7.

At 35 minutes, Marys won a lineout near halfway and set up an impressive maul which travelled 20 metres before it broke up, and Dan Goggin ploughed through a half dozen defenders and then laid it back. It came back to Aaron, and he rocketed through the defence and zoomed towards the line; he timed his pass perfectly to Myles on a brilliant vector, and he zipped in for a try and MOG converted. 14–14. Con scored a penalty on 39 minutes and it was 17–14.

Just on half time Con kicked out of defence. Dan Goggin caught and ran back hard making good ground; Ronan took it on, scythed through several defenders and laid back the ball when tackled, and it went across the line, with Aaron, Myles and Leandro to the fore, Leandro going over for a brilliant try which showed the wonderful quality of this team. Exhilarating! Half time, after MOG's conversion: 17–21.

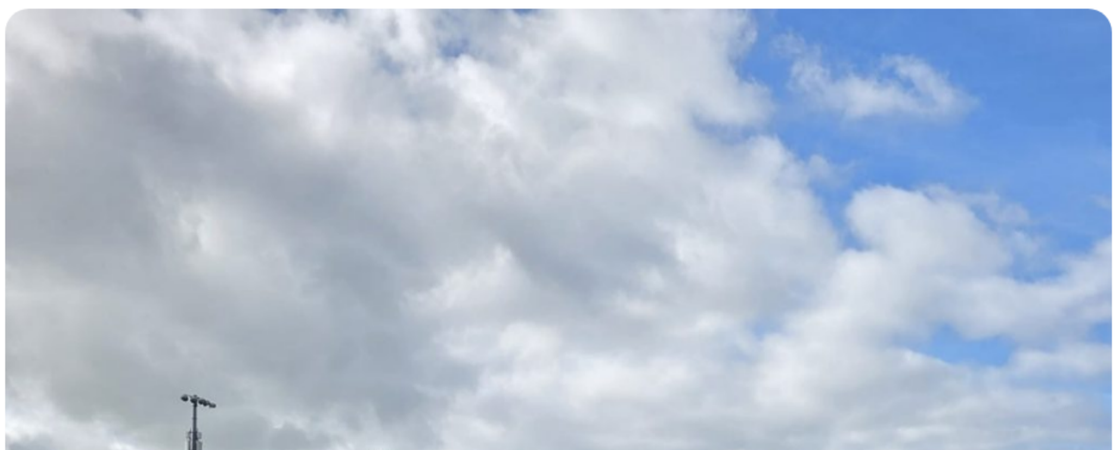

The second half unfolded as the first half finished, exciting and close, and it was not until 70 minutes had gone that Con again used their strong maul to go ahead with a try, for which the attempted conversion hit the post. 22–21. Coming near to the end, and still anyone's game, it appeared we had grabbed it with a fine penalty from MOG. 22–24. But in injury time Con launched a well-controlled attack; unfortunately, after fine defence for multiple phases, a high tackle was spotted by the referee and Con converted the penalty to win 25–24.

NEXT UP — TERENURE COLLEGE

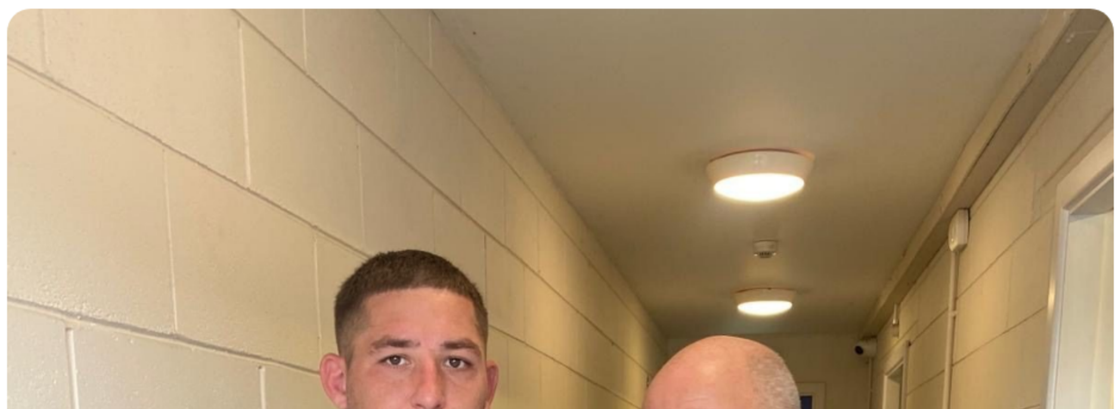

There is no need for negativity; every team that ever prospered has had some losses. This is only the third game and the first loss. This is a multi-talented squad, with a wide array of talent and players. The coaches are rightly adventurous and willing to vary tactics and personnel.

This is necessary to ensure we go through a long crusade, allowing for injuries and other situations, and so keeping the squad fresh and eager. There is good reason to look at our next AIL encounter v Terenure with optimism. There are two weeks in which to prepare.

There will be little need to encourage attendance at Templeville Road on 24th October. However, you had better remember to build your mental drive and let it consume the ground with Marys–Marys–Marys!

U20s: Response Delivered in Style at Old Belvedere

Old Belvedere 10 – 43 U20s

After a hugely disappointing outing against Blackrock last weekend, there was no hiding from it this week. That result stung, and rightly so. Players and coaches sat down for some honest, difficult conversations about standards, effort and what it means to wear the jersey. Nobody shied away from it, and everyone in the group left that room knowing exactly what was needed: a performance. Today, they delivered one.

It was no easy assignment either. A trip to Old Belvedere, a side carrying high expectations into this season, was always going to be a real test of character. Going away from home to a team with ambitions of their own, off the back of a poor week, is the kind of fixture that tells you a lot about a group. The lads answered every question asked of them, playing with the intensity, discipline and hunger that had been missing a week ago, and ran out convincing 43–10 winners.

From the outset there was a sharpness about the side that had been absent against Blackrock. The work rate at the breakdown was relentless, the carries were hard and direct, and the handling in the wider channels was crisp. The forwards laid a strong platform and the backs made the most of the ball they were given, with the whole team playing with a confidence and purpose that grew as the game went on.

Six tries told the story of an attacking display full of intent. Max Egan got things up and running with the opener, setting the tone for what was to follow. Diarmuid O'Shea, Max Colbert, Sean Thornton and Rory Noonan all followed him over the line as the pressure on the home side mounted, before Egan fittingly rounded off the afternoon with his second of the day. It was a fine return for Max, but every one of those scores was built on the work of the players around him.

Out-half Harry Cooke was in excellent form off the tee, missing just one conversion all day and adding a penalty for good measure. Reliable goal-kicking turns pressure into points, and Harry's accuracy made sure the effort out on the pitch was rewarded on the scoreboard.

Just as pleasing was the work without the ball. Holding a quality Belvedere side to just 10 points speaks volumes about the defensive effort and the collective buy-in from the whole squad. Line speed was good, tackles were made and players scrambled for one another when needed. That kind of defensive commitment doesn't come from talent alone. It comes from attitude, and it was exactly what the coaches had asked for during the week.

Man of the Match went to Cillian Walsh, sponsored by Reg Foley, after a superb all-round display. Cillian was at the heart of everything good about the performance and thoroughly deserved the recognition. Many thanks to Reg for his continued support of the team.

This is exactly the response the group needed, and credit goes to players and coaches alike for the way they reacted to a tough week. One good performance doesn't make a season, though, and the challenge now is to build on it and make this the standard, not the exception. Well done to all involved, and thanks as always to the supporters who made the trip.

Next up: On Friday 30th October, we welcome our nearest neighbours Terenure. Local bragging rights are on the line and there'll be no shortage of motivation, so come down, bring a crowd, and get behind the lads!
